Academic Integrity in the Admissions Process

As an IB learner, being principled means making the right choices in all areas of our work. This includes showing honesty and responsibility during the entire admissions process. Whether you're writing your admissions composition or taking the online exam, it's important to use your own ideas and answers. Working independently and truthfully reflects your commitment to learning and growth. By applying academic integrity in everything you do, you demonstrate respect for your own achievements and for the efforts of others. Upholding these values throughout the process ensures fairness and builds trust in your abilities.

Academic Integrity for the Student Composition

As IB learners, being principled means doing what is right, even when no one is watching. This includes being honest in your work, using your own ideas, and giving credit to others when you use their words or thoughts. When writing your admissions essay, it's important to apply this by using your own words and original ideas. This shows respect for your learning and the work of others. Being principled helps us build trust and ensures that we are always learning and growing in the right way.

- Microphone and webcam in good working condition.
- Speakers or headphones with microphone.

Internet connection

- Reliable, high-speed internet connection.
- On the day of the exam, the other members of your household should refrain from using the internet on their computers, telephones or televisions (e.g., Netflix) to avoid connection problems.

IMPORTANT!

Using the microwave during the exam session could also interfere with your WIFI and disconnect you from the exam platform. Be sure to let your family know!

TIP:

Check your internet speed in advance. Make sure you have a high-speed connection to avoid losing the connection.

Exam environment

- Set up your child in a calm and quiet area, where they can be left alone. Remember to close the windows and turn off all telephones, alarms, and other devices in the house! We recommend a room with door that closes, if possible.

PROCESS AND NEXT STEPS

Invitation email from BrissonLegris

- Approximately, three (3) to four (4) days before the day of the exam, you'll receive an invitation email from BrissonLegris. It will specify the exact time of your child's exam and include a personalized link to connect to the Zoom platform.
- Simply click the Zoom link on the day of the exam and a BrissonLegris invigilator will authorize you to access the virtual classroom. You don't need to subscribe to Zoom. The application will download automatically the first time you use it. The link to the exam platform will be provided by the coach when you're in the Zoom session. Remember to familiarize your child with the exam platform(demo). The link is presented on the first page of this document.
- The invitation email will also contain the support team's email address, in case you have trouble logging in (Zoom). Please note that the support team will only respond to emails on the day of the exam.
IMPORTANT! If you haven't received the invitation email 48 hours before the exam, please check all your email inboxes first and then inform the school. If you have other questions or must miss the exam, contact the school directly.

IMPORTANT!

Check your junk mail or spam folder for the invitation email. You can also search your inbox for the keyword "Zoom." The email subject line will say: Invitation –Online exam / BrissonLegris

The day of the exam

- You should be present with your child when they log in to Zoom. You'll be directed to a virtual classroom with 16 students. Log in 15 minutes in advance.
- When you click the link to the Zoom meeting, you'll be directed to a virtual waiting room. You may have to wait a few minutes. Make sure you agree to use video and audio when prompted by Zoom.
- The invigilator will go over the instructions for taking the exam. You'll only need to be present at the beginning of the exam to help your child log in to the platform. At the beginning of the session, the invigilator won't answer any questions about the content of the exam.
- Once you've logged in to the exam platform, parents will be asked to leave the room. The invigilator will explain the instructions to students and answer their questions before the exam begins. However, it is important for the parents to not leave the house during the exam. If your child has a technical problem that the invigilator is not able to resolve, you may be needed to resolve the situation.

TIP:

We invite you to consult the links presented on the first page of this document in order to familiarize yourself with the platforms.

IMPORTANT!

The total exam duration is approximately 2 hours (including instructions). Your child won't be able to go off-screen at any time during the exam. Make sure your child has scrap paper, a pencil, a water bottle and their glasses (if applicable). You also need to have your child's permanent code in order to log in to the platform (a special code will be sent to students not attending school in Quebec).

Is your child applying to more than one school that uses BrissonLegris online admissions exams?

There are a few exam options offered by BrissonLegris. The school decides which exam option they will use. Your child can only take the exam once for each option. So, if two schools have chosen the same exam option, you will be notified before the second exam, and the result will be sent automatically to the school. The results will be sent only to the schools using the same exam option.

The school is responsible for the admissions process and final decision. They will contact you with the results. BrissonLegris will not share results with families.

SPECIAL ACCOMMODATIONS

- Students entitled to special accommodations (with school permission) will be provided with:
 - ✓ 30% more time for each part of the exam
 - ✓ A text read aloud function (that's why it's important to have headphones or a headset)

The text read aloud button is located below each question. The invigilator will provide specific instructions for children who are entitled to special accommodations.

- Therefore, it's important to confirm access to special accommodations with the school in advance. No changes can be made once you've received the invitation email or on the day of the exam.
